SMILING SEN. KENNEDY, whose personal popularity has made him the political phenomenon of the year, made additional friends in Escanaba Saturday evening. Although his plane arrived one hour late at the airport here, chilled admirers greeted him warmly before he was whisked away to speak to an audience of about 3,000 in the Area Public High School gym. With him were G. Mennen Williams, candidate for Senator, and Zoltan Ferency, seeking the Michigan governorship. Greeting him here was Congressman Raymond Clevenger, 11th District, whose invitation brought Sen. Kennedy to Escanaba to bolster the Democratic cause in the Nov. 8 election. (Daily Press Photos by B. ## Crowds Give Kennedy Enthusiastic Welcome

Robert "Bobby" Kennedy, New York Senator, received a typically cordial Escanaba welcome Saturday evening when he came here to climax a busy day cultivating the Michigan political garden on behalf of the Democrats.

Although the plane bringing Kennedy and others of his group arrived here one hour late, the younger brother of the late President John Kennedy looked remarkably fresh, unhurried and serene. He had spoken three times that day in Lower Michigan and scheduled to speak in Buffalo that night at 7:30.

There was but 60 minutes for his stay in Escanaba, but he had time for humor and friendly asides.

"I am glad to be here—out of the cold," he told the audience at the Area Public High School after the chilling exposure at the airport. "Now I understand why your football team is called the Eskymos!"

Endorse Democrats And he had a message—two messages in fact.

The first was that Michigan will do much better if its people vote the Democratic ticket on Nov. 8, and in particular elect G. Mennen Williams to the U. S. Senate, Zoltan Ferency governor, Raymond Clevenger to Congress in the 11th district, and reelect Rep. Elmer Eklund, 10th District representative.

There was a man in the audience, however, who received Kennedy's personal recognition also—John Voelker of Marquette, who under the pen name Robert Traver is the author of "Anatomy of a Murder" and other books. Voelker is a retired Michigan Supreme Court Justice. He praised Voelker as "a man who is known all over the country."

In particular Kennedy endorsed the candidacy of Rep. Clevenger, candidate for reelection to Congress representing the 11th District.

Clevenger Praised "Some people ask me why I came to the 11th District," Kennedy smiled. "Well, when I was in New York I was asked, 'Why haven't you been to the 11th District in Michigan?' and the same question was asked when I was in Iowa and in California. So I called up Soapy Williams and I said, 'I must go to the 11th—and here I am!'"

Kennedy extolled Clevenger's record in Congress, noting that "45 million dollars in federal funds were allocated to the 11th District" since he has been representative. "These things just don't happen," he said. "They occur because Rep. Clevenger knows as well the problems of the people of the District and does something about them."

The projects noted by Kennedy included: Economic Development, Job Corps, Neighborhood Youth Corps, Housing, Manpower Development and Training, Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore, and the Sybilville Tract.

The Grave Question Kennedy gave endorsement to Ferency and Williams and said that "I look forward to working with Rep. Clevenger and Soapy Williams in Washington next year."

The second message of the Senator from New York was an appeal for individual understanding and cooperation in achieving "the role of the Uni-

ed States against the great enemies—poverty, illiteracy, and disease."

"We can not sit back and say that we are not concerned," he said, when there are problems in this country and undeveloped lands calling for solution.

"The grave question in this country is whether we have grown so comfortable over the past six years that we cannot see these problems or want to do something about them. One of these problems is employment—there are a few people in this country who are unemployed but they are of a different color and that is one of our problems," he said.

Compassionate Party He called for a people working together "in God's work" and with a compassion for those who are in need of assistance.

"Men like Gov. Williams and other members of the Democratic party represent this compassion," Kennedy said.

Leonard H. Shay of Germantown was master of ceremonies at the rally which was attended by an estimated 3,000 persons. He introduced Ferency, Williams, and Clevenger. The latter presented Sen. Kennedy. Williams called for a "Yes" vote on the proposition to permit Michigan youth to vote at age 18.

Clevenger in presenting Kennedy quipped that he (Kennedy) "is sometimes called the outstanding father of America."

The Robert Kennedys have nine children. "Fran (Mrs. Clevenger) and I thought we were doing pretty well with five," said Clevenger.

Kennedy was generous in offering his audience some of the witticisms that have won him attention. He said that he was "delighted to see all the Nuns" in the audience and told of the 1960 campaign in which his late brother, John, won the presidency.

"Some people said that he had the Pope in the back seat of the car," said Kennedy. "Along the campaign route the Nuns would jump up and down but in the background there would be some monsignor, looking very serious—and praying for some Republican!"

Kennedy also told the story (which he has repeated in most of his appearances recently) of the situation in Washington. Lyndon Johnson was in Manila, Vice President Humphrey was touring the East Coast, when Bobby received a wire from his brother: "Only one left in Washington. Have seized control. Signed Teddy."

It was the only time the name of President Johnson was mentioned at the rally.

Mediators Seek To Avert Strike At Westinghouse

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Federal mediators sought a last-minute compromise today to avert a strike of 14,000 Westinghouse electric workers.

With no compromise or agreement, the AFL-CIO International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers could pull its members off the job at 46 plants on the expiration of its contract at midnight tonight.

Talks broke down Sunday and mediators hurriedly arranged a meeting of both sides this afternoon.

The IBEW contends Westinghouse is offering less than what it granted three other unions in settlements reached in the last 10 days. The union also said the offer was less than the recent General Electric settlement.

Johnson Trips Impact Slight Say Politicians

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey says President Johnson's Asian trip will not have any appreciable effect on the Nov. 8 election.

Republican House leader Gerald R. Ford doesn't think an expected campaign trip by the President later this week will help Democrats, either.

But they took different political paths to reach their conclusions Sunday.

"I do not believe that the President's journey — was in any way politically motivated," said Humphrey on NBC's Meet the Press.

He added: "I am sure the American people are pleased that the President went. I have a feeling that the attitude of the American public will be one of support for the President's efforts."

Ford said the expected campaign trip following Johnson's return Wednesday would not help Democrats because voters have kept their minds on basic issues, headed by inflation.

Ford said on ABC's Issues and Answers that Republican leaders had been apprehensive Johnson's trip would "divert public attention from the basic issues bothering the American people."

Men-Women Opposed In Long Strike

SOUTH ROCKWOOD, Mich. (AP) — Opposing forces resume negotiations today, hoping to end a long and unusual strike — one pitting men against women.

Negotiators for the United Auto Workers Union and company representatives were to meet to try to settle a 105-day strike by women employees of a plant owned by Better Plastics of Michigan, Inc.

The strike already had: Forced the closing of the plant. Resulted in a court order limiting picketing and forbidding threats and acts of violence.

Prompted charges of unfair labor practices by both sides.

"It's a weird situation," said plant manager Renato Tordi. The plant's 19 women employees remained on strike while the 10 men workers went back to work one day after the walk-out began July 18.

The central issue appears to be disagreement between men and women employees over union representation.

Vote On Buildings

HILSDALE (AP) — Voters in Hillsdale County will be asked Nov. 8 to decide on two bond issues for new buildings. The proposals include a one mill tax hike over four years to purchase a site for a new jail and ask approval to borrow $1,000,000 to pay part of the cost of a new medical facility to replace Mapleview Hospital.

National Group Seeks Break In 'Silken Curtain'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some 300 men and women have formed the National Organization for Women designed to break through what it calls "the silken curtain of prejudice and discrimination against women" in all fields in America.

The group, formed after a weekend organizational meeting, said it would work for "a fully equal partnership of the sexes, as part of the worldwide revolution of human rights."

In a statement of purpose, it urged women to work for equality "not in pleas for special privilege, nor in enmity toward men, who are also victims of the current half-equality between the sexes, but in self-respecting partnership with men."

Betty Friedan, social critic and author who wrote the best-selling book "The Feminine Mystique," was elected president. Named chairman of the board was Dr. Kathryn Clarenbach, University of Wisconsin director of continuing education and chairman of the Wisconsin governor's Commission on the Status of Women.

The 300 charter members include men and women representing all religious, ethnic and economic groups.

Richard Graham, director of the National Teacher Corps and former commissioner of equal employment opportunity, was elected vice president and four other men were named to the 20-member board of directors.

The group called on the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission to enforce laws prohibiting discrimination on the basis of sex and urged wider use of women in industry and government.

Weekend Traffic Kills Four In U.P.

A head-on crash of two cars on U.S. 27 just north of the Indiana-Michigan line Sunday night claimed the lives of three persons and brought the Michigan weekend traffic death toll to 27.

Killed in the crash were James Clay Taylor, 45, of Romulus, Sanford McElhenie, 88, and his wife, Fern, 79, both of Fremont, Ind.

Killed in other accidents over the weekend were:

Two Marquette men, Otis Malmgren, 46, and Harold Specker, 64, when their car ran off a county road at the edge of the Marquette city limits and struck a tree Sunday.

Frank Lake, 46, of Gulliver, in the head-on collision of two cars Saturday on U. S. 2 near Manistique.

Mrs. Thelma Morrison, 51, of Calumet, when the car in which she was riding piled up in a ditch after going out of control Saturday on U. S. 41 just west of Manistique in the Upper Peninsula.

Cong Deserters Flock To S Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Vietnamese officials today announced a sharp rise in Viet Cong desertions to the South Vietnamese side. They reported 2,000 deserters from the Communist cause in October, the third highest month this year.

The announcement came on the eve of South Viet Nam's National Day which will be celebrated with a big parade that will include 500 former Viet Cong in the line of march.

The war itself lapsed back into a lull after sharp weekend clashes. Only small ground actions were reported and monsoon rains again reduced U.S. air raids over North Viet Nam.

Viet Cong guerrillas shot down a U.S. C-130 cargo plane today in the dense jungles of the "iron triangle" 20 miles northwest of Saigon. The plane's three-man crew was rescued unhurt by Air Force helicopters.

B-52 bombers from Guam made two raids Sunday night over South Viet Nam.

South Koreans Give President Warm Welcome

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — President Johnson was welcomed to South Korea today by an estimated two million people who broke down metal fences, swarmed around police and clung to rooftops for their first glimpse of the man hailed in a typical banner as the "Great Texas Giant."

Seoul turned out the biggest and friendliest crowd of Johnson's seven-nation tour around the eastern rim of Communist China.

The President responded by popping out of his car half a dozen times, to mix with the cosetti-tossing, flag-waving throng.

Urges Caution

Facing massed crowds estimated by police at 350,000 in City Hall Square, the President voiced concern for the safety of those who pushed, shoved and trampled each other in an effort to get a better view. He urged courtesy and caution "so we don't hurt anyone."

Harking back to the Korean War in which 54,246 Americans died, Johnson said he was standing on "hallowed ground."

"I have come to express our gratitude for the brave and generous help you are giving to our common ally, Viet Nam — both on the battlefield and in rebuilding the countryside. This is the act of a nation that understands the nature of aggression and that knows what it means to have help in resisting that aggression."

A huge cheer echoed over the square.

Park Requests

South Korean President Chung Hee Park, who has sent 45,000 troops to Viet Nam, had waiting a variety of requests for aid, including $300 million for development projects, a guarantee of at least $200 million a year to support the South Korean army, and more orders for South Korean manufacturers to supply the forces in Viet Nam.

The vast outpouring of Koreans came as Johnson entered the last stage of his 17-day, 31,000-mile journey around the eastern rim of Communist China. He leaves for Washington Wednesday, stopping en route for nearly 12 hours in Anchorage, Alaska.

Veiled Warning He flew to Korea from Kuala Lumpur, capital of Malaysia, where he voiced a new warning to Communist China, the old foe of Korean War days. He said the Chinese Reds were inviting danger by development of nuclear-tipped missiles. He promised that the United States would offer protection against nuclear blackmail to nations that forego development of their own nuclear weapons.

His Malaysia stay was marred by anti-American riots.

Truhill said Sunday at his home that all three were convicted of smuggling charges in Brazil trumped up by Gen. Rio Grandino Krusel, former chief of Brazil's federal security police.

State Politics In Final Press

By The Associated Press Michigan politicians today began their stretch drive with only eight days left until election time.

Republicans set the last stage in full motion with an "action team blitz" by air plane, hopping rapidly from airport to airport and rally to rally.

"We're going to travel as far as possible as fast as possible," said Gov. George Romney, considered a favorite over his Democratic opponent, Zoltan Ferency. The so-called blitz will last three days, covering Michigan from top to bottom.

Democrats had their turn with campaign image-building tactics when Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D - N.Y., whizzed from Detroit to Escanaba Saturday with senatorial candidate G. Mennen Williams and Ferency.

Today, the Republicans flew in a DC-3 big enough to carry along a host of candidates besides Romney and Griffin. After stopping at Ann Arbor, their battle plan called for greetings to airport rallies at Jackson, Battle Creek, Kalamazoo, Benton Harbor, Cadillac, Manistee, Alpena, Gaylord and Traverse City. Tuesday, the team plans to spend all day in Upper Michigan.

Coplan Employees First To Finish D.U.S. Campaign

The B. A. Coplan Iron & Metal Co. is the first Delta County industry to turn in complete employee contributions in the 1966 Delta United Service drive. A.W. Freeman, chairman of the D.U.S. Board, announced today.

Freeman said the employees showed "a generous increase" over last year.

He also announced that Harnischfeger Corp. has made its corporate gift to the drive, which represented about four per cent of the drive goal.

Drive chairman Robert Barron said goal of this year's campaign, based on requests of the 11 participating agencies, is about $67,000. A year ago, about $47,000 was collected.

Baron today asked all campaign workers in business, industrial, professional, education and governmental divisions to complete their canvases as soon as possible to allow the residential and township house-to-house drives to begin. Baron indicated he would like to complete the drive later this month.

Agencies participating in the drive are Bay Cliff Health Camp, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Delta County Retarded Children's Association (J. F. Kennedy school), Red Cross Blood Bank, Salvation Army, Delta Family Service, the U.P. Child Guidance Clinic, United Service Organizations (U.S.O.), and the Michigan Children's Aid Society.

Delta United Services has its drive office located at 904 Ludington St.

Sewing, Fabric Meeting Set For Wednesday

All homemakers and 4-H club leaders interested in sewing are invited to a special meeting on clothing construction to be held from 1 to 4 p.m., Wednesday, Nov. 2, at the County Building in Escanaba.

A trip through fabric shops reveals unlimited variety of dry goods. Gone are the days of only wool, cotton, linen, and silk with a definite hem for each. A recent survey showed 20 types of hems.

The purpose of this lesson is to give criteria for making construction technique choices that will be suited to the fabric, the garment design and intended use of the garment. Linings and underlinings will be also included in the discussion.

Homemakers and leaders will not sew at the session but will learn a great deal about sewing. Excellent illustrations of material will be shown and bulletin material will be available. A possible future session will also be discussed.

Blatnik To Aid Clevenger Drive

IRONWOOD — Congressman John A. Blatnik (D-Minn.) will be speaker Nov. 2 at a dinner rally in Wakefield for Congressman Raymond F. Clevenger.

Sponsors of the event, scheduled for 7 p.m. at the Motor Lodge, are the Gogebic County Democratic Committee, the Veterans for Clevenger, the Gogebic County Central Labor Council AFL-CIO, and business and professional groups.

A former school teacher and State Senator, Blatnik has represented the 11 counties around Chisholm, Minn., for 10 terms.

Housing Loan

WASHINGTON — A $6,000 preliminary loan for planning of public housing units in Laurium has been authorized by the Department of Housing and Urban Development. The funds will enable the Laurium Housing Commission to begin planning for 30 low-rent homes for elderly residents.

Park Trash Can Yields $500,000 Stolen Painting

CHICAGO (AP) — An anonymous telephone caller with the voice of a frightened teen-ager directed police Sunday night to a trash basket containing a stolen $500,000 painting. The caller said the theft of the Renaissance painting, "Madonna and Child with St. John," by Correggio, was a prank that got out of hand.

The painting was found in a trash basket in lakefront Grant

Park, about a quarter of a mile down Michigan Avenue from the Art Institute of Chicago.

The richly colored work, on a wooden panel, was taken from the Art Institute early Sunday morning.

Charles C. Cunningham, director of the institute, said the 16th-century Italian masterpiece suffered moderate, but repairable, damage. After it was purchased last year it was described as the institute's most important acquisition in more than 60 years.

The break in the case came shortly before 6 p.m. when the anonymous caller told both the police and Art Institute personnel where to find the painting.

Lt. Stanley Bazarek, 44, driving alone in a squad car when he heard the radio call, said he found the painting "in the first can I looked at, about 30 feet off the street."

Police were uncertain how the burglar got into the institute, which until now had gone without a major art theft. However, they believe he left the building by breaking a second-story window, dropping the painting 20 feet to a roof, then jumping 14 feet to an air-conditioning duct and then 6 feet to the roof.

Mental Health Unit Asks State's Help

Action to explore alternate methods for expanding mental health services in Delta County, following the county's rejection of participation in a three county mental health district with Marquette and Alger, were taken by the newly formed Delta County Community Mental Health Board at its first meeting on Sunday.

The 12-member board appointed by Chairman Charles Sedenquist of the Delta County Board of Supervisors showed strong interest in immediate quest of state and federal assistance for a new Delta County mental health program. All 12 members were in attendance Sunday afternoon, in spite of short notice, in order to meet a Nov. 1 deadline for state approval of mental health programs.

Dr. George Maniaci of Gladstone was elected chairman by the new board and reported on four meetings that he attended last week in the interest of immediate action on mental health. Several members of the group held a preliminary meeting in Dr. Maniaci's car while driving to Sault Ste. Marie Thursday to attend a meeting of the Upper Peninsula Child Guidance Clinic.

Unit In Program
(The clinic would become a unit in the expanded mental health program under Michigan Act 54, the state's program for organization of mental health services; which it subsidizes 75 per cent.)

At this Sault meeting several possibilities and ideas were discussed with Wiljo Sarkela, of Lansing, and with representatives of the Marquette County effort to expand mental health services.

The Delta County group included Dr. Maniaci, Richard Rinehart, president of Bay de Noc Community College; Gladstone Mayor Frank Stupak and Escanaba City Councilman Edward Cox, both members of the Delta County Board of Supervisors.

County Funding
The Delta County Board of Supervisors will be asked for additional funds to match federal funds for such expanded services, the Mental Health Board announced. # Fardine Derouin St. Francis Fills Taken By Death Administrative Job Fardine Derouin, 65, of 220 N. 14th St., Escanaba died at 3 p.m. Saturday at St. Francis Hospital following a lengthy illness.

Born Nov. 4, 1900 in Hyde, he had lived in Perronville for 25 years before moving to Escanaba in 1922. He was a retired dairy farmer and member of St. Patrick's Church.

He is survived by his widow, the former Anna Stozek; one son, Albert of Escanaba; two daughters, Mrs. Henry (Marjorie) Kozlowski of Schaffer and Mrs. Hilding (Ethel) Skoglund of Escanaba; one brother, Alex of Schaffer; five sisters, Mrs. Leslie Johnson of Escanaba Rte. 1, Mrs. Louis VanEnkevort, Bark River, Mrs. Louis Taylor of Cornell, Mrs. Arthur Stares of Detroit and Mrs. Marie Anderson of Stephenson.

Friends may call at the Deagan-Crawford Funeral Home Tuesday from 3 to 5:30 p.m. and parish prayers will be recited at 8 p.m. Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. at St. Patrick's Church with Mgr. M. B. Mellan officiating. Burial will be in St. Michael's Cemetery, Perronville.

Joseph J. Laskar of Newburgh, N.Y., today took over duties of associate administrator of St. Francis Hospital. Announcement of his appointment was made by Sister M. Hildegard, administrator. Laskar succeeds John Haines, who left St. Francis last spring for a position at Fridley, Minn.

A graduate of the University of Connecticut and a registered pharmacist, Laskar comes to Escanaba from St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, where he has served as assistant administrator for the past 11 years.

He has been a member of the faculty at Columbia University, New York, since 1958, teaching the program of continuation of education in hospital administration. He is a member of the American College of Hospital Administrators, the American Hospital Association and an honorary member of Rho Chi pharmaceutical society.

He is married and has four children. Mrs. Laskar and his family will join him in Escanaba as soon as permanent living arrangements are made.

Sauve Retires From Railroad

Retirement of Eli J. Sauve, 65, locomotive engineer on the Chicago & North Western passenger train between Ishpeming and Green Bay, was announced today.

Sauve, of Rte. 1, Escanaba, has served the company for 46 years, beginning his employment May 7, 1920, as a fireman. He was promoted to locomotive engineer Oct. 10, 1952, and has piloted the passenger train for the past several years. Retirement will be effective Tuesday, company officials said. Sauve made his last run Thursday, Oct. 27.

Sauve said he plans to continue residence in Escanaba and to continue his hobby of gardening and berry raising and "to do a little traveling" with his wife, Kathleen. He said he also hopes to do quite a bit of fishing.

Bostrom Ends 40 Years With C&NW Railway

Gabriel Bostrom of 325 Washington Ave., an employee of the Chicago & North Western Railway for almost 40 years, retired today as leader carpenter.

He began work with the North Western on Jan. 2, 1927 in the bridge and building department. All of his employment with the Railway was in Escanaba.

Educational TV Will Inspect Schizophrenia

MARQUETTE — Northern Michigan University's educational television network, WNMR-TV, will premiere a new weekly series of hour-long documentaries on major domestic and international affairs at 8 tonight.

The initial program, titled "NET Journal," produced by National Educational Television will be "Schizophrenia — The Shattered Mirror." It will examine the cause and research into the nature of an illness that mentally cripples one of every 100 persons during a lifetime.

"Uncertain Partners," another in "The Struggle for Peace" series, is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. Tuesday. The program deals with NATO.

The weekly program schedule also will include: "Wildcat Hitties" at 10 tonight. Game action of the NMU vs. Findlay game.

"International Magazine" at 8 p.m. Wednesday reports on the differing attitudes toward unwarmed mothers in Sweden, the United States, and Great Britain; a terrorist movement against British rule in Aden, a village in Norfolk, England which was the birthplace some 350 years ago of Abraham Lincoln's ancestor, Samuel Lincoln; and Madagascar.

"Northern Dimensions" at 9 p.m. Wednesday will feature Dr. Leon Hill, Detroit physician, and vice president of the State Board of Education on his recent visit to the NMU campus, and Don Keaskey, NMU junior from Escanaba, campaign for the Northern Michigan area in the drive to gain the franchise.

Romney Team To Address Rally Here On Tuesday

The Democrats made their last big bid for votes in the Delta County area with Senator Bobby Kennedy as a rally speaker Saturday and on Tuesday evening the Republicans bring their blitz to town.

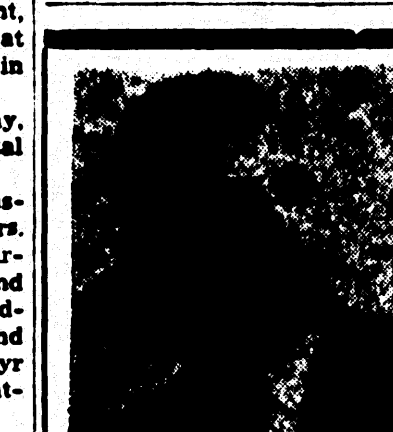

Gov. George Romney will head the Republican action team that will make a sweep of the Upper Peninsula. The team will come from Iron Mountain to Escanaba by motor caravan, announces Tom Quinn of the Romney Volunteers.

Romney and U.S. Senator Robert Griffin will start their drive of campaigning Tuesday at Traverse City, fly to Sault Ste. Marie, Marquette, Calumet, Houghton, Ironwood, Iron Mountain. As Iron Mountain the action team will board a bus and join a motor caravan for Escanaba, with stops at St. Mary's Church, Norway at 4:10 p.m. and at the Wildwood Country Kitchen at Hermanville at 5 p.m.

Powers-Spalding Stop
The motorcade will move on to Powers-Spalding, arriving at 5:10 p.m. and going on to the Big R Cafe parking lot on U.S. 2 & 41 for a rally at 5:40.

Escanabans are invited by Quinn to join the motorcade at Powers-Spalding. It will leave for Bark River at 5:55 and is scheduled to stop at the Standard Service in Bark River for a driveway rally at 8:10. Leaving there at 8:20 it is scheduled to arrive at Escanaba Airport at 8:30 for a "Red Shirt" rally in the Republican hunt for votes.

Clevenger And Ruppe

The contest between U.S. Senator Robert Griffin and former Gov. G. Mennen Williams for the Senate is the top attraction in Michigan's Nov. 8 election, with the re-election of Gov. George Romney over Zoltan Ferency seeming to be generally conceded.

Next in interest are the congressional races. Both the Democrats and the Republicans have tried to bolster their most threatened congressmen and to push out the wobbles of the other party. The GOP has done it by association with George Romney and the Democrats have done it by bringing in big names from Washington.

The Clevenger-Ruppe race is a case in point. Congressman Raymond Clevenger (D-Sault Ste. Marie) is a first term who broke a long string of Republican victories in the 11th Michigan District. The District used to include only the eastern U.P. and top of the Lower Peninsula, but it now embraces all 15 U.P. counties and 7 below the Straits.

John Luecke of Escanaba followed Prentiss Brown of St. Ignace to complete a three term stretch for the Democrats in 1933-38 that followed a long Republican tenure. And from 1938 the Republicans held the seat until Clevenger won it in 1964. He beat Victor Knox of the Sault, who had served 6 terms.

Clevenger introduced an entirely new format for congressional service. A district which had usually seen its congressman in only one brief pass before election now saw him every time a lightning flash illuminated the landscape. Clevenger's returns to the district have been unprecedented for a Midwestern congressman. It inevitably led to charges that he was neglecting his duties in Washington, but his attendance record there has been good.

What he has been doing while there should be a matter of greater interest to the voters. Americans for Constitutional Action, Americans for Democratic Action and COPE—the AFT-CIO Committee on Political Education—rate him this way: ACA 4%, ADA 95% and COPE 100%.

Clevenger has tied himself unreservedly to the Johnson Administration. It likes him, too, and has sent to the district to bolster his chances for re-election Vice President Humphrey, Agriculture Secretary Freeman, Interior Secretary Udall and Senator Bobby Kennedy. This is an unprecedented infusion of top government brass in the U.P. to help a congressman.

It is a reward in part for Clevenger's unvarying support of the administration and in part it is a demonstration of the Democratic technique of all-out politicking. We had the polar opposite by the Republicans under President Eisenhower, who didn't want to get involved in boondock politics.

How much of this elbows-of-the-great rubs off on the local candidate is questionable. At Battle Creek the political consensus was that President Johnson's visit hadn't helped Congressman Paul Todd. At Saginaw people said after Senator Ted Kennedy visited there for Soapy Williams that Kennedy wouldn't have any trouble getting elected in Michigan. Soapy's cause was lost in the Kennedy adulation.

The Detroit Free Press, in endorsing Clevenger for re-election, says that he, like Rep. Todd, has shown an independence from the party line more frequently than other Michigan Democrats. This is a weird report on the 11th's congressman, who reveals no independence under even microscopic examination. There are good things that may be said about Ray Clevenger's record, but independence is not one of them. He has consistently peddled the Washington line in the 11th and not vice versa.

He favors solving public problems by socializing them and this happens to be a popular political stance, but it should be a solution of last resort. The Upper Peninsula's present prosperity traces to its industrial economy and the problems like inflation that threaten our prosperity can be charged in big part to government, which has so coveted political credit for the boom that it has not acted resolutely to preserve money values.

Clevenger's opponent, Philip Ruppe of Houghton, is a more experienced businessman than the congressman, but a political newcomer. He is probably the most liberal Republican who has ever run for Congress in the 11th and, like Clevenger, he has a lively mind. It could be employed in government with great public benefit and the public in choosing between the two men has a basic choice between encouraging government or encouraging the private sector.

Ruppe has much the harder selling job because government keeps pretending that it is gifting citizens with welfare programs. The citizens are paying for them in their taxes, of course, and taxes have become very high. There is no prospect that they will not go higher, but the citizen still has choices of degree and direction and that's what the election is about, although the names on the ballot are Raymond Clevenger, Democrat, and Philip Ruppe, Republican.

Take The Die Out Of Diet By Cutting Down On Fats

"Please pass the cholesterol"

And do have some more of this delicious saturated fat. I cooked it especially for you."

An impossible dialogue? No, but though often told in jest, the situation it reflects is real enough.

Each year, more and more Americans may be eating their way to premature heart attacks, the Michigan Heart Association says.

This warning is being made on the basis of growing scientific evidence that eating too much of the wrong kind of fats is causing increased mortality from heart attack.

Changes in eating habits are in order for all of us, young and old, sick and well.

The underlying process is atherosclerosis, a buildup of fatty deposits along the inner walls of the coronary arteries that feed blood to the heart muscle. This process, starting silently early in life, can suddenly — or slowly — cause a block.

Hearts And Fat

A complete and sudden block can cause death: a small block can damage that part of the heart deprived of blood, while enough narrowing can cause chronic heart disease. The tragedy of this disease is that it hurts or kills so many perfectly good hearts.

A similar process in the brain can cause a stroke.

What has this all to do with what we eat?

The medical scientists who have been on the trail of any clues to the causes of atherosclerosis have come up with substantial evidence incriminating the fats we Americans love best—butter, eggs, ice cream and prime steaks.

Studies of population groups on a world-wide basis have disclosed an association between blood levels of cholesterol and other fats and the incidence of heart attack.

Matter Of Diet

Populations with a low blood level—Africans and Japanese, for example—have a lower heart disease death rate.

Moreover, laboratory studies tend to confirm the statistical findings. Scientists have produced atherosclerosis and even heart attacks in animals by feeding them diets high in cholesterol and saturated fats, says the Michigan Heart Association, a Michigan United Fund agency.

The diets consumed by most Americans are not only excessive in calories, but are also high in saturated fats, including cholesterol (solids of animal origin)—the very foods leading to high levels of cholesterol in the blood. Studies have shown, however, that high blood cholesterol levels in middle-aged American men can be brought down significantly by a careful diet.

Reduce Weight

In urging all Americans to modify their eating patterns, the Michigan and the American Heart Associations emphasize the need to make sound food habits "a family affair."

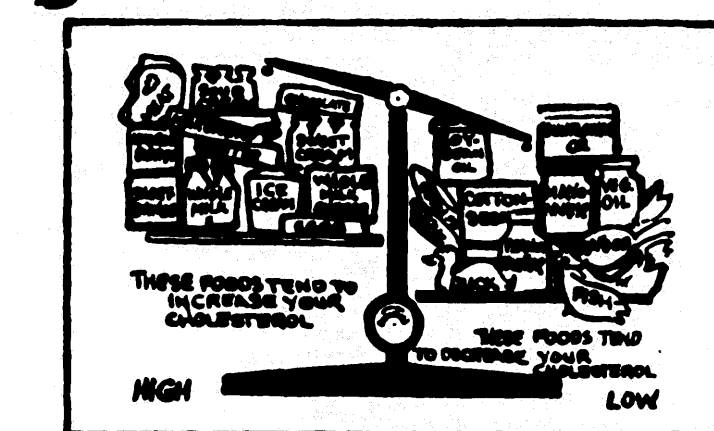

They advise the public to:

—Eat less saturated fat (usually of animal origin).

—Eat less food high in cholesterol.

—If overweight, reduce.

They said that a decade of experience has shown no evidence of any ill effects from are not yet in, but if you insist these dietary modifications, on waiting for the last strag- Complete returns on their valuing statistic to be counted, ue in preventing heart attacks you might be one of them.

Rocky Team Learns

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A key thing about the New York governorship race is that some of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's old dogs are showing they can learn important new tricks.

That they have brought off this feat accounts in large part for the justly heralded efficiency of Rockefeller's campaign for a third term—an effort which all soundings suggest now has him nose-to-nose with Democrat Frank D. O'Connor. Last winter an influential New York Republican told this reporter:

"The governor is so far behind that we'll never get him elected again with the same old team doing the same old things. We need new people and fresh ideas."

Stubbornly, the governor kept his seasoned veterans: National Committeeman George Hinman, State Chairman William Pfeiffer, executive assistants William Roman, John Wells, Michael Celsi.

Nobody called in Joseph Newpolitan, practitioner of the new politics with its stress on spending pots of money for high quality polls and advertising. But, remarkably, the old hands all began acting as if they had taken a crash course at somebody's School for the New Politics. Says one of the crew:

"We spent many a sleepless night trying to figure out what to do to save the situation."

The package of campaign innovations they came up with would do credit to the brightest young specialist anywhere on the horizon. Though one or two Rockefeller veterans gave ground slowly, the acceptance of the package by all was a tribute to their flexibility.

The elements of the effort are now well-known—clever, amusing television spots which are on and off screen before the viewer knows he has been politicked; matching literature spread about in enormous volume; a fleet of highly mobile propaganda wagons, under constant, direct voice control from headquarters, which can strike in New York City wherever voters dare to gather in tempting numbers; area deputies, new organizational middlemen, who put fresh zip in an old party lineup.

Central selling point in all this is not Rockefeller the man but the governor's record. The television commercials, done by Jack Tinker and Partners, leave him out. The assumption is that the bloom is off the peach.

In fact, he still can turn on his old "hiya, fellas!" charm

Not enough executives realize how important to their business are the telephone operator and the receptionist.

Every woman is a volunteer in the war of the sexes; most men are draftees.

These are South's thoughts as he bids and plays today's hand.

"This is a pretty good hand. Seventeen high card points and a good six-card heart suit. Wrong distribution for an opening no-trump so I'll bid a heart. . . West had bid a spade and my partner two clubs. Must make a strong rebid. Better try three hearts. . . Now my partner bids five hearts. He wants me to go to six if I can take the second spade. Six hearts it is. . .

"Here comes the opening lead. The jack of diamonds! West must be sitting back with the ace of spades over my king and I have to do something about my king-small of spades. I can discard one spade on a diamond and try to locate the queen of clubs. That is a 50 per cent chance. Of course I guess more often than I missues but is there a better line of play? Sure, there is. I had better discard a club on dummy's third diamond and ruff out the queen of clubs. I had better win the diamond in my own hand and play a couple of trumps. I will leave the ten in dummy as a trump entry. . .

"West has discarded the nine of spades. As if I didn't know he held the ace! Can he hold four clubs? Not likely at all. If he has, he is going to beat me because I am not going to play against that possibility. I will play dummy's high diamonds and discard a club. . . So far so good. Now for king and ace of clubs. . .

"Everyone has followed on two rounds of clubs. The queen is the only club left. I can ruff it out, get back to dummy with the ten of trumps and discard my two spades on the last two clubs.

"Nice bidding, partner!"

Ann Landers

Don't Blab Hubby's Sleeping Preference

Dear Ann Landers: I read in a household hints column recently that a wife ought to herself men's pajamas because she discovered they were much more comfortable than her own.

This little item gave me the courage to write to you about something that has been bothering me for a long time. My husband likes to sleep in my nightgowns. Before you get any crazy notions I want to make it perfectly clear he is normal in every way. We have two children and get along fine together. There is nothing funny about this guy. He just likes the feel of a silky fabric and the looseness of a nightie. I bought him a man's nightshirt for his birthday last April but he didn't like it and went right back to my nighties.

When I suggested to a few women friends that they ask their husbands to try their nightgowns for comfort they looked at me as if I had gone stark, raving mad.

Please tell me why it's all right for a woman to sleep in her husband's pajamas, but if a man sleeps in his wife's nightgown he is considered some kind of a nut?—SAUCE FOR THE GANDER

Dear Sauce: If your husband wants to sleep in army shoes it's his business. More to the point, however, a wife should not blab around a description of her husband's sleeping apparel.

A man who prefers his wife's nightie to his own pajamas is plenty odd in spite of your insistence he is perfectly normal. Consider yourself fortunate that his oddities stop there.

Dear Ann Landers: Rick (fake name) and I have been married for four years. We have a son three years old. Don't tell me the reason we are having trouble is because we were married too young. I realize that, but it's too late to do anything about it now. I was 16 and Rick was 18. Our folks tried to persuade us to wait, but we were smarter than everybody.

Money is not a problem any more. Rick has a good job and he gets a lot of overtime because he'd rather work than come home. I guess I should consider myself lucky. Some married men don't want to go home, but they don't want to work either.

Doxiadis Counsels America

City Growth Curb Urged

EAST LANSING (AP) — "If we allow all of our cities to grow, there is no hope for them," says an award-winning Greek architect, engineer and urban planner.

Creating new cities, he suggests, would relieve the pressures of growth and change on old cities, and allow planners to avoid making the mistakes of the past.

Constantinos A. Doxiadis, who has won awards from the International Union of Architects and the Industrial Designers Society of America, discussed urban planning for Michigan State University students last week.

"The system of roads we are still building is ridiculous," he said, "and our cities' centers are being choked to death."

In less than half a century, he predicts, 13 billion persons will live in the world's urban areas and only 2 billion in rural areas. By then, he expects metropolitan Chicago and Detroit to be one continuous city with Battle Creek as the halfway point.

Big Role
"The role of the small cities and the villages is very big," Doxiadis said, "for it is there that the human scale can be preserved."

"Our only hope for humanity is that every man keeps and respects his own desires. That guarantees us that if the majority fails, the minority will survive," he said.

His proposal for cities is that they follow a biological principle —that single-celled organisms divide in order to multiply. Unlike cities, they do not just grow larger and larger.

"The cities of tomorrow are organisms and we can create them on the basis of these principles," Doxiadis said. "We have to create rational networks for our high speed, mechanical systems within which we can construct human communities."

On the drawing board, his plan resembles a tic-tac-toe design, with the lines representing traffic networks and the squares representing communities of up to 50,000 persons each.

Speed Useless
"We build cars that can go 100 miles an hour and force them to crawl through the cities at an average of nine miles an hour, stopping every two minutes for a red light," he said.

"We must not deprive man of his ability and desire to walk, because it is from walking, the anthropologists tell us, that man developed his present form," he added.

Currently, "we are not free to walk or to run in the cities," said Doxiadis. "The introduction of the red light was the greatest step backward in human history."

City planning, he said, must reconcile the necessity for growth and change and the necessity to build a balanced, static community made up of permanent shells to house man.

In addition, Doxiadis said, planning must involve:

—Understanding man's needs and potentials and being very conservative about anything that involves man.

—A realistic attitude toward inevitable technological change. For example, he predicts, "we can expect the cities of tomorrow to construct tunnels, 'deepways,' rather than highways for high speed traffic."

Urban renewal is needed now in some cases, but if planners start following reasonable policies, Doxiadis said, "I would condemn urban renewal completely 60 years from now."

PKU Uncommon For Michigan

LANSING (AP)—A mentally retarding disease called PKU, which strikes newborn babies, is less common in Michigan than on the estimated national average, says the State Health Department.

Since statewide testing for Phenylketonuria (PKU) began about four years ago, the department said here, 172,000 babies have been checked and only six cases were found, or about one per 28,000 babies.

The department said the U. S. Children's Bureau estimates the PKU rate at one case per 15,000.

"Each of the babies discovered with the disease is now under treatment and will be saved from a life of mental retardation," the department said.

'Day In The Gift Shop' Planned For Nov. 10

Mrs. Irwin Gibbs, President, announces that "A Day in the Gift Shop" will be sponsored by St. Francis Hospital Auxiliary on Nov. 10 in the gift shop and lobby of St. Francis Hospital from 2 to 5 p.m. with Mrs. W. J. Smith, general chairman. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The gift shop was organized seven years ago and has been staffed by volunteers who have sponsored outstanding benefits to raise funds to provide added comfort to the hospital patients.

The courtesy cart under the chairmanship of Mrs. Earl Taylor and Mrs. H. J. Huckenhauer has functioned for the past twelve years and makes available to the patient small commodities needed during hospitalization. The art committee has delighted patients who are confined on holidays throughout the year with unusual tray favors. The present chairman is Mrs. Ralph Anderson.

This past year the workshop was reorganized by Mrs. Raymond O. Fish. Through her efforts articles such as children's hospital pajamas, filters, book covers and bookcases have been made and supplied to the various hospital departments.

In addition she and her committee have made elegant holiday cloths - ornaments and unusual gifts and toys which will be on display and for sale along with gift shop holiday merchandise in the "Pageant of Artistry" which is sponsored by both departments.

Mrs. Michael B. Jensen, Ralph Sogard and George C. Bartley, the organizers of the Auxiliary, will serve as hostesses with Mrs. John H. Bissell, chairman, from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Chrysanthemum Tea honoring past presidents, Mesdames Nicholas Chapekis, Hubert H. Shepeck, W. J. Smith, Carl Benzinger, Donald Ness, L. M. Fleming and Forrest Henslee.

Assisting with arrangements for the tea to which all Auxiliary members and the public are cordially invited, will be Mesdames John A. Lemmer, Thomas McInerney, Sigwald Hill, Fred R. Hoyer, Anna Kraus, A. J. Geartts, H. J. Huckenhauer and W. L. Kennedy.

The personnel scheduled for the Workshop display assisting Mrs. Fish are Mesdames Fred Hirn and Earl Casey from 1 to 2 p.m. Mesdames John Holland and Warren Johnston, 2 to 4 p.m. Mesdames John Zaccardi and Art Olson, 4 to 5 p.m. Mesdames Raymond Fish, Mrs. Roland Larson and Frank Finn, 5 to 8 p.m.

The volunteers who staff the Gift Shop daily throughout the year will be on hand to assist patrons during the afternoon and evening. Mrs. Donald Wertz is chairman of personnel.

1 to 3 p.m. - Mesdames Irwin Gibbs, Sigwald Hill, Jack Winters, Claude Bohn, Sam Mills, John Hebert, Ralph Anderson, John Molin, Roy T. Starrin and Paul Richter.

3 to 5 p.m. - Mesdames Carl Benzinger, Chet Morton, Donald Ness, G. C. Bartley, Donald Wertz, C. A. Anderson, and George Anderson.

5 to 7 p.m. - Mesdames Robert Hirn, Martha Feller, William Perron Sr., Victor Nelson, Joseph LaCrosse, Richard Donovan and Kenneth Kilmar.

7 to 8:30 - Mesdames William Richer, Irwin Gibbs, Anna Kraus, L. R. Barber, Roger Moras, Earl Casey, Fred Hirn, Ernest Desilets, Roy T. Starrin, William Mulvaney Jr., and Misses Ruth Jewell, Genevieve Harris and L. M. Kleinschmidt.

Assisting Mrs. James G. Degnan, gift shop chairman will be Mesdames Ralph Anderson, Chet Morton, Joseph LaCrosse, W. J. Smith, Irwin Gibbs, Warren Johnston, Henry Huckenhauer, Sigwald Hill and Raymond Fish. Cashiers will be Mesdames Roy T. Starrin, Paul Richter, C. A. Anderson, George Anderson, Robert Hirn and Anna Kraus.

The regular monthly meeting of the Auxiliary will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 2 in the doctors conference room at 2 p.m. Members of the board will meet at 1 p.m. All members are urged to attend the meeting as final plans for Nov. 10 will be made.

Marylee Motto Bride Of Dale G. DeGrave

St. George's Catholic Church in Bark River was the setting Saturday, Oct. 29 at 5 p.m. for the wedding of Miss Marylee Doris Motto of Detroit and Dale Gilbert DeGrave of Lansing.

Officiating at the double ring nuptials was the Rev. Thomas Dunleavy.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. William Motto of Rte. 1, Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. George DeGrave of 3310 5th Ave. S., Escanaba.

Honor attendants for the couple were Marie Audrey Compo of Marquette, a friend of the bride and Tom Swift Jr., of Escanaba, cousin of the bridegroom. Seating the guests were Dale Villeneuve of Escanaba and Ralph Veezer of Powers.

Star Lace
The bride selected a floor length gown of organza star lace over ermine white taffeta and her fingertip illusion lace veil was secured by a headpiece of organza petals trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of white mums and red sweetheart roses edged in white mullin.

The maid of honor was attired in a red velvet gown and carried a cluster bouquet of white pompons centered with red carnations.

Mrs. Motto attended her daughter's wedding attired in a navy blue and black celene shift with black accessories and Mrs. DeGrave chose a raspberry red knit suit with black accessories.

The wedding reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony.

Home In Lansing
Following a wedding trip the newlyweds will make their home in Lansing. The bride is a graduate of Holy Name High School and of the Shapero School of Nursing, Detroit as a licensed practical nurse. She is presently employed at Mt. Sinai Hospital of Detroit.

Mr. DeGrave is a graduate of Escanaba Area High School and served with the U.S. Navy for four years. He is presently employed at Superior Electric Co. of Lansing.

Out of town guests attended from New Orleans, La., Charleston, S.C., Detroit, Grosse Ile, Clio and Dearborn, Mich., and Ashland, Wis.

Christ The King Approves New Building Plan

Members of the congregation of Christ The King Lutheran Church met for a special congregational business meeting on Sunday evening. Approval was given of the building program relating to the construction of a new church edifice on the present site located at 13th Ave. N. & 18th St. The executive building committee was also authorized to proceed with the selection of an architect.

During the past week, members of the congregation received a booklet "Our Building Plans", which interpreted the basic needs to be embodied in the architect in designing the new church. Preparation of this booklet was the result of a year-long study of the needs of the church and community by the executive building committee. At a meeting of the Church Council on Friday evening additions and corrections of the booklet were made and it was recommended by the council for adoption by the congregation.

The Building Plans booklet of the new church facility, together with an "Information Study Report Form" will now be submitted to the Lutheran Church in America, Department of Church Architecture in New York for their approval.

Members of the executive building committee were appointed by the council with Percy Clouse as the general chairman. Study committee chairmen are, Arnold Ottensman, survey committee; Mrs. Gunnar Nelson, worship and fine arts; Walter Olsen, Christian education assisted by Mrs. Clarence Anderson and Mrs. Leonard Erickson; Les Carlson, fellowship and administrative facilities; Leonard Erickson, membership relations & finance and H. George Nelson, furnishings and equipment.

Senior Citizens Social Club

The Senior Citizens Social Club will meet Tuesday at Club 314 beginning with a 6:30 p.m. pot-luck supper followed by cards and dancing. This will be a Halloween party and costumes are optional. Persons attending are asked to bring their own table service. New members are welcome.

Ray Mines Plant Uses Smoke To Produce Copper

HAYDEN, Ariz. (AP) — The Ray Mines Division of Kennecott Copper Co. has announced a $35 million modernization of its Hayden smelter, designed to use smoke to produce copper.

Company officials said the new facilities will remove 96 percent of the sulphur dioxide from the smelter's effluent which enters the air.

Kennecott said it would increase its production capacity by 24,000 tons annually with the new facilities.

The new production is to go into use in 1969 and will boost the mine's capacity to about 100,000 tons annually.

I. G. Pickering, division general manager said smoke from the stacks will be converted to sulphuric acid at the rate of 750 tons a day. The acid will be used to refine copper silicate ore.

Great Lakes' Greatest Drama

Salmon Excitement Grows

By JEAN WORTH

"Some fantastic things are happening in the Great Lakes and we think they're going to affect everyone here in the next few years," Dr. Wayne Tody, chief of the Fish Division, Michigan Conservation Department, told the Upper Michigan Tourist Association at Bessemer this week.

"We on the Great Lakes here are in the greatest concentration of cold fresh water in the world. It had a balanced population of fish and few to use it so it developed into a commercial fishery and was exploited and the fish populations were whittled down.

"Then tragedy struck in the sea lampreys and they destroyed the valuable species, especially on Lakes Michigan and Huron and to a lesser degree on Superior. The control of the lampreys with chemicals has been one of the success stories of the century, but in the lower lakes, and especially Michigan and Huron, the alewife has become as bad or an even worse problem than the lamprey.

Lake A Mountain
"Estimated annual production of alewives is 200 million pounds a year in Lake Michigan. They make up a school that stretches from Ludington around Lake Michigan to Chicago and in Green Bay and it's 5 to 25 miles wide and over 100 feet deep in places. On sonar it looks like a mountain.

"Our thought is that this is not a problem, but a blessing. These little forage fish constitute 90 per cent of the fish population of Lake Michigan. The rest are chubs and neither of these fish eat each other. What we need is a high value fish to prey on this population and convert it into high value fish.

"We have turned to the salmonidae — the trout and the salmon — and these fish (except the sockeye salmon) are fish eaters. If we could bring these fish to a high degree of abundance by artificial means it would set us in the midst of the greatest sport fishing center in the world.

Catch Big Ones
"Lake Superior lake trout are on their way back. They are already quite abundant in shore waters. Off the Black River there have been big catches by charter boats this summer and on Keweenaw Bay there have been reports of too many taken, as many as 30 a day. The steelheads (lake-running rainbows) on Superior are holding up, but not increasing.

"But the Lake Michigan story, from Muskegon to Traverse City, is something to see. They are catching Coho salmon from 12 to 17 pounds with boats out and everyone having a fine time. There are reports of 12 pounders in the Manistee River — too big to land.

"The lake trout is adapted to deep water — 30 fathoms or so; so that they're wire line fishing and better suited to commercial than to sports fishing. The steelhead is a great fish but it is primarily a river fishery in the spring and fall and not abundant in the summer season when our tourists are here.

"The brook trout promises to be a good summer fish in in-shore waters in the 10 inch and pound-and-a-half class.

The Champion
"But the Coho or silver salmon fits almost perfectly into the Great Lakes picture if it can adapt to it. The Coho only lives 3 years, which are split between lake and stream life. The Coho can be produced in abundance; the steelhead is difficult to produce abundantly; they have to spend two full years in a stream and the mortality there is high, even if we don't fish them. The Coho is only in the hatchery and the stream one-half as long and it can be produced 10 times as abundantly at the same cost. We can gear up to any degree of abundance we wish.

"In Westport, Wash., in August records were broken with 116,500 salmon taken and 94,700 were Cohos and 28,200 Chinooks. At 2.29 fish per man and an average of 7 pounds for Cohos and 15 pounds for Chinooks that's over 20 pounds of fish per man for the average trip and 600 charter boats are operating there. The reason that this is so good is that it can happen here!

Jacks Running
"In June the salmon assemble in shore waters after being 1,000 miles out to sea and after providing four months of a fishery they run into the streams and die. A steelhead is pretty hard to catch but the Coho is stupid. Hang a herring by his nose and you've got him.

"Coho jacks weighing up to 7 pounds have been running out of Lake Michigan into the Manistee River this fall. This is probably a world record. They're up to 8 pounds and they're supposed to be a pound and a half.

"We got a million Coho eggs from Oregon in 1964 and reared 850,000 to yearlings, which is better than we ever do with trout. We planted 200,000 in the Big Huron River in the Upper Peninsula (it flows into Lake Superior), 200,000 in the Platt River and 400,000 in Bear Creek and the Manistee River downstream.

1,000 Taken
"We have had light runs of jacks in the Big Huron and Platt in September and October, 14 to 16 inches and weighing up to a pound and 7 ounces. In the Manistee the average has been 3 pounds and they have weighed up to 7 and 8 pounds, almost as big as they should be next year. We expect that maybe they are going to break the Pacific Coast record for growth.

"Only part of the males come back to the streams as jacks. Next year the salmon run will come in and they will probably be 10 or 12 pounds or more and it should be exciting.

"I would guess that over 1,000 jacks have been taken in the Manistee this fall. You couldn't get through the roads because of the traffic and people were catching fish. They say that single families caught 40 or 50 and so 1,000 is probably conservative. We trapped 306 on the Platt and 232 in Bear Creek in one weekend. Considerable numbers are coming back in the jack runs now and the adult run isn't until next fall.

Offshore Fishery

"We didn't bring in the Coho for a river fish, we brought it in to furnish an offshore fishery and the real fishing of Coho should be from late June to early September out from shore to a distance of 9 miles. When they run into the rivers they should provide fishing for 10 days to two weeks. They all die in the streams, but we doubt that there will be a pollution problem. We can let as many go up the stream as needed (for egg laying) and remove the rest by liberalizing the fishing rules.

"Michigan with 200 million pounds of alewives can convert them into 20 million pounds of salmon a year and that's two million 10-pound fish.

"Huron is as great a prospect as Michigan, but Superior has

Extinct

Dr. Wayne Tody, describing great changes in the Great Lakes fishery, said "The white perch is another dandy pest that is coming into the lakes. It's in western Lake Erie now. It grows to about 10 inches and it's worthless as a sports fish. We don't seem to get anything good from the ocean. These are anadromous fish; they live in the ocean and spawn in fresh water. The trout, salmon, alewives and sea lampreys all do it.

"The alewife feeds on plankton, the microscopic 'grass' of the sea' that is the beginning of life in the waters. There were 9 species of chubs in Lake Michigan and 6 are now extinct and it looks like only one will survive. That's what the alewife has done in the last 3 or 4 years."

more water and less food. Someone is going to make money. We don't think things are ever going to be the same again.

Eggs Next Question
"We have demonstrated that Cohos can live in the lakes and that they are faster-growing than in the ocean; that they are fish of high quality and that they return to the streams. Now the question is: Will they have viable eggs in a fresh water environment? They did not in some experiments, but there were problems then because they dealt with stunted fish.

"We have taken a few females and found nothing wrong and if all goes well we will have to get eggs this fall and hatch them ourselves. If not, we will go west for eggs. I think that it is possible.

"We are also interested in the King salmon or Chinook. We are getting a million eggs from Washington and we will plant them in the spring. They come back to the streams like the Cohos, but in four years instead of 3. They weigh 16 to 18 pounds and would give us another high quality fish for a big game sports fishery.

"We got 3 million Kokanee salmon eggs from Colorado and Washington and planted them as fry in Torch and Higgins lakes downstream. We will have to wait four years till we get eggs there and then spread them to other lakes.

It has been estimated that 100 billion tons of warm water pass through the Straits of Florida every hour.

Anything this homely has got to be good.

The VW Station Wagon may look silly. But it's so sensible, it makes all the others look even sillier.
We started by chipping away at every senseless old idea we could find.
Hoods didn't seem to be doing anything useful, for example, so we don't have one.
The engine is tucked in back instead.
We saved an inch here and an inch there and got a machine that holds nearly twice what regular wagons hold: over a ton.
The VW holds 9 people, not 6. When you take out the middle seat, it holds 6 anyway.
Plus a piano.
You like windows? There are 21.
Doors? 2 huge and 3 very huge.
The VW runs for next to nothing, and you don't have to go into hock for life to buy one.
You just can't find anything frivolous or flimsy or merely for the sake of looks.
Because the rule works both ways:
Anything this good has got to be homely.

Escanaba and Holy Name players, coaches and fans can be proud of their conduct before, during and after the second annual football game played between the schools here Saturday. We've been kicking around this old sports scene for many years, but never have we seen a finer example of true sportsmanship.

The game was one that both winner and loser will long remember. The action was fierce on the field. Both teams cracked leather with grim determination. The athletes played their hearts out. But—and this is the thing that brought a lump into our throats when it was over—it was the cleanest football game we have ever witnessed. There wasn't a single example of unsportsmanlike conduct in the entire tense afternoon. Rough, yes. Dirty, no.

After the game was over there were tears in many eyes for Holy Name's gallant but losing efforts. And there was justified jubilation for the Eskymos, followers in the 14-0 victory. But there never was a more humble victor nor a more gracious loser.

At the annual Eskymo Fan Club banquet Saturday night at the Delta, the players, cheerleaders, parents and coaches gathered for a dinner and a rehash of the final game and the entire season. There wasn't a word of gloating over the triumph. There was lavish praise for both Eskymos and Crusaders. Eskymo Coach Jerry Cvengros displayed remarkable poise in a brief dinner speech in which he didn't even mention the Holy Name-Escanaba game.

Following the game, Crusader coach Tom O'Neill refused to make a single excuse for Holy Name's loss. "I've never been prouder of my football players," he said. "Escanaba won the game and they deserved it." was his simple statement of fact. No complaints, no ill feelings, no alibis.

If the Escanaba-Holy Name football series continues to be handled in the manner that marked Saturday's event, fans need have no fear of any harm coming from the rivalry. We said it Saturday and we'll repeat it today: "We are proud to be associated with the schools and the people who conducted themselves as true sportsmen during the second annual gridiron clash between Escanaba and Holy Name."

Engadine Wins Season Finale For Best Year

INDIAN RIVER — Coach Rod Carlson's Engadine Eagles put the cap on the best football record in the history of the school by trimming Indian River, 41-13, here Saturday.

The Eagles were led to their seventh victory in nine starts by quarterback Mike Schutt who fired two touchdowns passes to end Roger Nesbit and tallied twice himself on short plunges. Jim Legault and Darrell Houghton tackled on the other two TDs against the downstate foe.

Indian River scored twice in the first period to force the Eagles to stage a comeback for a 13-13 tie entering the second quarter.

That was the end of the Indian River threat as Engadine punched out a touchdown in the second frame, two more in the third and another in the fourth.

Indian River tallied first following a low snap from center on a punt that gave them the ball at midfield. Mike Thompson passed to John Moore for nine yards and a TD and Dan Owen ran the point to make it 7-0.

The Eagles narrowed the gap to 7-6 when Legault intercepted a pass and ran it in from 21 yards out.

Owen hit Indian River's second touchdown after a fumble recovery on the Engadine 11. He scored on a seven yard run to make it 13-6.

The Eagles knotted it at 13-13 as Schutt connected with Nesbit on a 46 yard pitch. Schutt sneaked for the point.

Schutt set up Engadine's third TD with a 26 yard pass to Nesbit and sneaked over from the two. Walt Frazier ran the point for a 20-13 margin.

Early in the third Harry McNeil intercepted an Indian River pass and ran it back to their 12. Schutt punched over from the one yard line and ran for the point to spread the lead to 27-13.

Jack Archie faked a punt and ran 30 yards to the Indian River nine. Three plays later Houghton belted over from the two and Archie's kick was good, 34-14.

Schutt hooked up with Nesbit on a 19 yard pass to close out the scoring in the final period. Archie split the up-rights with the PAT.

Engadine had earlier clinched the school's first Eastern Conference championship with a 5-0 record.

Kennedy Charm Overcomes Cold Wait At Airport

By CLINT DUNATHAN

Staunch Democrats, a substantial number of teenagers and younger citizens, and Republicans interested in seeing the man the Democrats appear to be grooming as LBJ's successor in the White House, turned out to greet Senator Robert F. "Bobby" Kennedy in Escanaba Saturday afternoon.

The younger brother of the late President John Kennedy came to Escanaba on the last stop of a whirlwind tour of Michigan.

That his plane arrived one hour late — 5 p.m. rather than the scheduled 4 o'clock — caused the crowd to dwindle at the airport, where a chill wind whipped and whirled the "Hi-yah Bobby!" welcoming signs.

There was about 500 at the airport at 4 o'clock. Many were children holding placards pushed into their hands by adults. "Welcome Sen. Kennedy" signs were no more numerous, however, than the banners for other Democratic candidates.

Getting The Word As minutes passed and Kennedy's plane did not show, the rumor spread among those in the know that he would be 45 minutes late. Those "in the know" were cautioned not to say anything about the delay.

The Holy Name High School Band, after playing several numbers, sought the warmth of a bus that had brought them to the airport. They waited for the signal to pile out for the welcoming. So did everyone else.

About 4:25 a Piper Cub — one of those two-seaters — came in for a landing. The restless children with the "We Love Bobby" signs rushed to the little plane, no doubt thinking it was carrying Sen. Kennedy. The older children hooted at the mistake. The next time a small plane landed only a few misguided children dashed toward it.

Claude Tobin and George St. Louis, who had largely directed the plans for the Kennedy reception, conferred briefly and Tobin came to sit in the bus that was to transport the Press (with capital letters) from the airport to the Area Public High School, where the speaking program was held.

The opposition "He's on his way," Tobin reported. "They were delayed getting out of Pontiac, but they should be here by 5 o'clock." Congressman Raymond Clevenger, at whose invitation Sen. Kennedy was coming to Escanaba, continued his smiling and untiring round of hand-shaking.

There was a compact group of Phil Ruppe's supporters at the airport. Ruppe is the Republican candidate for 11th District congressman, seeking to unseat Clevenger. They carried signs too: "R. F. K. Yes. Yes, Yes, Clevenger No!" And another one flaunted open defiance with the message: "Democrats for Ruppe!"

Rep. Clevenger waded into the tight little group with outstretched hand and a smile of undaunted confidence and won a few handshakes at least.

There was a man in a gray suit wandering around with a pistol prominently displayed in a holster at his hip. He held his coat open so that it was obvious that he was not carrying a concealed weapon. The people in the Press bus wondered: Was he CIA, FBI, or MSP plainclothes?

Escanaba Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe. They and Mayor Harold Stupak of Gladstone were to welcome Bobby Kennedy.

"Have you seen Stupak?" asked Mayor Vanlerberghe of the people in the Press bus. They shook their heads, no, they had not.

The crowd dwindled perceptibly, many no doubt moving along to the High School gym, to get out of the cold.

Clevenger continued his own personal greeting campaign, shaking every hand that wasn't shivering in a coat pocket.

Four fifty p.m. — 4:55 — and then one head turned and then another there coming in from the southeast was the North Central Airlines Convair bringing Kennedy to Escanaba.

Carriers of the signs and placards found new strength. "Welcome Bobby" moved toward the spot where the plane was to unload; "Hi Zoltan Baby" followed with considerable agitation; and "Our Best Wishes Ray" ran to catch up.

Several men descended from the plane to be engulfed by the placards — and then the children (mostly girls) shrieked ecstatically when Bobby Kennedy came out. He moved quickly through the brief formalities, brown hair tousled by the wind, white teeth smiled in his tanned face, and was whisked to a car leading the escort to the High School.

With him were Zoltan Ferency, candidate for governor, and G. Mennen Williams, who is seeking the U.S. Senate seat. They looked tired. Kennedy was bright-eyed and bushy-haired. He wore a dark brown suit, orange-brown tie, and an air of confidence.

Newspaper men from the major wire services plus reporters from the metropolitan dailies poured into the bus, which quickly got under way to follow the Kennedy entourage to the High School.

An eager young man began buttonholing the reporters. He was Don Keskey, of Escanaba, president of the Student Body of Northern Michigan University and chairman in the northern half of Michigan for the campaign to put the "Vote for 18-year-olds" in the Nov. 8 election.

"I would like to have you ask Sen. Kennedy to endorse the vote at 18 proposal—at least ask him for a statement on it," said Keskey.

"Kennedy can't vote in Michigan," commented one of the representatives of the fourth estate.

No — Sen. Kennedy can't vote in Michigan, but Michigan Democrats are hoping he has enough magic to make their political wish come true. Certainly he gave them a full day's work and no doubt they are grateful and forever in his debt.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Warner Dunlap, Tennessee highway engineer, and Ward Goodman, chief highway engineer for Arkansas, worked together 20 years ago in planning the Memphis-Arkansas Bridge across the Mississippi River. Now they are planning an Interstate 40 bridge across the Mississippi at Memphis and they say the new bridge will cost more than twice as much, $9.5 million compared with $4 million.

Noisy Home Can Bring On Illness

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail: American women are going in for insurance in a big way. According to an industry estimate, they now own $130 billion in life insurance. The average woman executive last year bought a $10,000 policy, the policies bought by housewives averaged $3,900.

If people could digest grass and other plants as readily as do sheep and cows, by simply getting rid of the world's livestock the earth could support 14.5 billion more human beings than it now has.

A noisy home life can make you physically ill. Scientists have found that a noise level of 100 to 120 decibels can cause gastric ulcers and temporary deafness. And you can reach that level by simultaneously turning on a vent fan, the dishwasher, the garbage disposal unit and the radio or television set.

We like to think of ourselves as inveterate travelers, but some 60 million U.S. adults have never gone more than 200 miles from home. And three out of five have never spent a night in a motel or hotel. Only five per cent of motor trips are for more than 500 miles.

Quotable notables: "Keep your nose out of other people's business. If you follow this advice, you'll never have to alibi a black eye." — Jimmy Durante.

In 1959 only 14 per cent of persons of "college age" were actually taking college courses. Today an amazing 43 per cent are.

Tuberculosis, one of mankind's oldest diseases, is by no means conquered. It strikes some 50,000 Americans yearly, and 9,000 die of it.

Life is getting easier for women all the time. Modern gals complain their foundation garments are irksome, but the girdles they wore back about 1500 B.C. were made of heavy iron rings.

Folklore: You can avoid the bad luck that comes from breaking a mirror if you cross yourself or find a $5 bill. To see your future husband, lady, first drink white wine and rosewater and then look at the moon through a silken scarf. Put a raw potato in your mouth and you won't cry while peeling onions. An itching palm is a sign you will come into unexpected money.

One-day pneumonia: A study of the absentee problem in industry found that more than a fourth of all absences were for only a single day — and that was usually either Monday or Friday. Three guesses why.

It was Miguel de Cervantes who first observed, "Diligence is the mother of good luck."

Body In Slag Pit

DEARBORN (AP) — A body, believed to be that of missing Ford Motor Co. worker Herbert Bates, 45, was found Sunday in a pickup truck under six feet of water at a Ford plant slag pit. The truck was the one assigned to Bates when he was reported missing last Friday.

ROY LOGAN, 66, who only last month won his freedom after a belated appeal of his 1924 conviction in the slaying of his Highland Park, Mich., sweetheart, is going home to Georgia—and possibly to another prison. Logan, who spent 42 years in a Michigan prison, has decided to waive extradition and voluntarily return to Atlanta to face a warrant charging him with escaping from a work camp in 1923. ## Rock

Classes in adult education will begin instruction on Thursday, Nov. 3 at the Rock School. More members are needed in classes and additional enrollment will be accepted in sewing, knitting and typing at 7 p.m. There were only five persons enrolled in general shop, and if no more interest is shown, the class will be dropped.

Leslie Tyynela was dismissed from St. Francis Hospital on Friday.

The Delta County 4-H Council will be sponsoring the publication of new play books for Delta County.

The Hospital Auxiliary met last week and voted to sponsor the 12th Annual Harvest Supper on Nov. 12 at the Rock Lions clubhouse.

Ronnie Koski returned to St. Ignace after downing a 130 pound spikehorn, hunting with the bow and arrow in the Rock area.

Classes in adult education will begin instruction on Thursday, Nov. 3 at the Rock School. Additional enrollment in sewing, knitting and typing will be accepted.
